Once you are approved as a qualified CCBill Referral Partner, you simply provide any qualified leads directly to your CCBill Channel Manager. The Channel Manager will work on securing the account and ensuring you receive proper credit for the new merchant processing.

Each time one of your qualified referred merchants signs up for a CCBill account via your Channel Manager, you'll immediately start receiving up to 1.00%* of their net payment volume on a weekly basis. Unlike other referral programs which cap or limit your commissions, the CCBill program pays your commissions on the qualified referrals for as long as the merchant is processing with CCBill in good standing. Plus, we don't limit you to commissions on profit, but pay on overall net volume.

Referral Partner FAQs

How Does it Work?

When the merchant you refer signs up for a CCBill account, you are eligible to receive a Qualified Referral Fee. The commission amount is a percentage of the transactions processed by your referred merchant through CCBill's online processing and our payment services platform.

After the referred merchant's account is active and processing transactions, you'll receive a weekly commission payment up to 1.00%* of the net processed amounts. There is no maximum amount that you can be paid or cap on your commissions for your qualified referred merchants.

How Do I Refer Someone?

Simply provide the name and detailed contact information of your qualified merchant via email or phone directly to the Channel Manager. The Channel Manager will contact your referral and work to complete the account application. Once the account is active and processing, the account is tagged with your referral ID and commission payments are started two weeks in arrears.

Who Can I Refer to CCBill?

You may only refer individuals who do not already have a CCBill account and with whom you have a pre-existing personal or business relationship. You may not refer names obtained from group email addresses or email mailing lists, and you may not refer yourself.

How Long Do I Receive Commissions?

The commission period begins when your referred merchant has an activated account and starts to process transactions on that account. Commissions are paid as long as the account is active and in good standing.

How Do I Get Started?

Complete your lead referral agreement and submit it to your Channel Manager, along with two forms of identification. Once the application is approved, your Channel Manager will provide you with your referral ID and direct submittal information.
